FOREWORD

Desert Storm was not only one of our most successful wars, but it was also the war most covered by the media in near-real time. Media coverage is exceeded now by intense efforts from many sources to scrutinize every aspect of the crisis and war for lessons learned. This document, maintained throughout the crisis, is being distributed on a limited basis for use by those individuals and organizations involved in various lessons-learned projects.

DESERT SHIELD AND DESERT STORM

A CHRONOLOGY AND TROOP LIST FOR THE 1990-1991 PERSIAN GULF CRISIS

This is a chronology of the Gulf Crisis and a list of the major troop units involved, derived primarily from news media reporting during 1990 and 1991. It was compiled on a day-to-day basis as events occurred, and it has been produced quickly after the war to aid in initial analysis. Although some attempt has been made to update earlier chronological material as events later came to light, especially during the ground war 24-28 Feb, I cannot guarantee that this has been done in all cases.

UN SECURITY COUNCIL RESOLUTIONS (pp. 3-4)

The list of the relevant UNSC Resolutions includes a summary of their provisions.

MILITARY FORCE LIST (pp. 5-10)

The military force list shows the principal troop units that were deployed by all participating powers. The strength figures shown are the maximum reported strengths. Casualty/loss tables, as of the date of this report, are also shown.

THE CHRONOLOGY (pp. 11-82)

"Hard news" items are listed on the day that media reports indicate that they occurred, whenever that has been clear. Interpretive material is generally listed on the date that the material appeared.

Also, an attempt was made to include items under the current date in the time zone in which they occurred. This is necessary to avoid being confused with an eight-hour time difference between Persian Gulf and Eastern Standard times. Instances which deviate from that general rule are noted.

The primary sources of material for this chronology were The Washington Post and The New York Times. When nearly identical material appeared in multiple sources, the sources are not indicated with the individual entries.
